

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

In the vicinity of Colchester, entire crops of beans and potatoes were destroyed by the thunderstorm Saturday afternoon.

A bird survey on the west 40 acres of the H. M. Page homestead in Hinesburg revealed 51 species of birds, 27 of them nesting.

A. L. Wheeler fell from a chair at his home in Wilmington last week and broke both bones of his right leg about two inches above the ankle.

The newly renovated Church of Christ, Scientists, in St. Johnsbury, was occupied Sunday for the first time since the Baptist society purchased it.

Mrs. George Macomber of Underhill has a geranium 14 years old, which is five feet six inches tall and has 18 large scarlet blossoms and 10 buds on it.

A. H. Hyde of Grande Isle was injured Wednesday when his foot became caught in a horse rake. He had 40 loads of hay out and was trying to get it in before the storm.

Albert Hogue, foreman in the reclaiming room at the Deerfield Pulp company plant in Wilmington, was badly burned a few days ago when one of the reclaiming furnaces exploded.

P. M. Robinson of Wilmington, who has been camping up the Deerfield river, caught a three and one-half pound brook trout recently. The trout measured 23 inches when taken from the water.

Fourteen small children in Burlington, the youngest five years old, meet every afternoon to make articles for the Red Cross. Some of them are learning to knit and all have been making filling for fracture pillows.

The meeting of the Greater Vermont association, which was to have been held in Rutland the first week in August, has been postponed on account of the infant paralysis epidemic in the state. If the disease subsides, the meeting will be held in the fall.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN.

Charles Champagne of 8th Vermont Died in Burlington.

Burlington, July 24.—The death of Charles Champagne of 18 King street, a Grand Army veteran, Co. A, 8th Vermont, occurred yesterday at his home at the age of 73 years. He had been ailing for the past several years from a complication of diseases.

Mr. Champagne is survived by three daughters, Rosanna of this city, Anna of New York and Nellie May of Montreal. Last year in France his son, following the patriotic example of his father, enlisted in the army and was killed in an action with the Germans. Another son and a daughter died some time ago. His wife died 18 years ago. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's church. Interment will be in Mt. Calvary cemetery. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic will attend in a body. Mr. Champagne was a member of this organization, fought in the Civil war, being stationed at New Orleans. He was but 20 when he enlisted.

Counting Seconds.

An easy method of counting seconds that is sufficiently accurate for photographic purposes is to repeat a phrase that it takes one second to pronounce. The majority of people will require one second of time to pronounce the words one hundred and one as rapidly as clear enunciation will permit. The last word of the second should always indicate the number of seconds that have been counted. Six seconds, for instance, should be counted one hundred and one, one hundred and two, one hundred and three, one hundred and four, one hundred and five, one hundred and six. Many who use this method can count from thirty to sixty seconds without varying more than one or two seconds from the time recorded by a watch.

Butter From Bird Fat.

A queer sort of butter is obtained in Trinidad, where cows and cream are scarce. This butter is the boiled down fat of a bird called the guacharo. This bird lives in the darkest caves and seldom is seen in the daylight. The young birds are extremely plump, and from them is obtained the rich fat. The birds are taken from their nests when two or three weeks old. After they are killed they are put on to boil, not in water, but in their own fat. The natives experience some difficulty in getting at the nests of the guacharo, for they must creep through caves and wade through stagnant pools to reach their prey. The full grown guacharo is so timid that no one ever has been able to photograph a living specimen.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Proper Posture.
A proper position of the body is a greater factor in maintaining good health than is generally realized. A simple test suggested for discovering whether the carriage of a child is correct is the passing of one's hand over its back when it happens to be standing naturally and easily. If the ends of the shoulder blades can be felt it is proof that the child is not standing correctly. The habit of standing on one foot should be corrected at once, as it causes one hip to grow out more than the other, while a common fault in walking is that of carrying the head a little to one side. When sitting the head and back should always be drawn up and the body never allowed to loll.

More Men Want Little.

I heard a man say one time that the things he looked for in a room were a comfortable chair, a strong writing table and a good light. That does not seem much for a man to want. But how many men get it? The girls and women of the household decorate and furnish their rooms to please themselves, but it is not very often that very much thought or trouble is spent on the men's rooms. One reason that they don't think more about it is that as most men have these comforts at their offices they do not bother to voice their opinion about what they might have at home.

Every one who has a boarding house is rather anxious to rent the rooms to men, as they are proverbially less trouble and easier to please than women, and how much more easily the rooms might attract men if they should bear in mind the three things this man said were essential to his happiness.—Wash. Post.

Punishing a Sparrow.

It is quite common in early spring for young and inexperienced sparrows to steal twigs and other building material from the nests of their elders. If this theft is detected, as it usually is, a posse promptly visits the offender's nest and scatters it to the four winds, soundly thrashing the occupant in the bargain.

A story is told of a sparrow which stole the nest of a martin and was making himself comfortable in it. The angry owner summoned all his friends and immediately they came, several hundred strong, but the intruder held them at bay for some time by pecking all who came near enough to the opening. Finally the avengers withdrew and held a consultation. In a few moments they returned, each with a mouthful of mud, and proceeded to plaster up the hole, walling the occupant up alive.—Nebraska Legal News.

Cheap and Dear Men.

In an interview with Darwin P. Kingsley a writer in the American Magazine reports:

"Suppose you explain, Mr. Kingsley, some of the differences between the $1,000 a year and the $5,000 a year man."

"Punch, faithfulness, capacity for work and inclination for it," returned the life insurance president, "make up the yardstick which measures most differences in salary. It's not at all difficult to spot the youth who has the makings of a winner.

"The $5,000 a year man, to begin with, is always on the job. He is too busy to watch the clock. He is likely to be quicker at his work than the man at the next desk, and he is always looking for more things to do. In a roomful of clerks the man who is always hollering for heavier tasks doesn't have to ask for promotions."

An Aged Gander.

The birds that live to a great age are comparatively few. Gulls have been known to reach forty years, parrots frequently live eighty years and swans nearly as long. Ravens and owls usually die somewhat younger, but there is good reason to believe that eagles and falcons sometimes live more than a hundred years. Of barnyard fowls ducks and geese live longest. D. MacLachlan of Islay, Scotland, writes to the Field that he has a gander that is now sixty-six years old. For forty-five years it belonged to the proprietor of a hotel at Bridgend, Scotland. Twenty-one years ago the father-in-law of the present owner bought it. Mr. MacLachlan says that the gander looks as well and as young and seems as active as it ever did. There is no doubt about its age.

Har Adopted Name.
They were discussing the peculiarities of names, and Blotton suddenly said:
"By the way, Cox, your wife's got a queer name, hasn't she—Duty?" Where did she get that name Duty?"
"Oh, she adopted it," replied Mr. Cox. "She claims that every married woman's middle name is Duty, because she is either being done or neglected."—London Mail.

Explained.
"I know a man who is very successful in business, and yet all his customers know his talk about his goods is chiefly hot air."
"How does he manage to fool them, then?"
"He doesn't. He deals in furnaces."—Baltimore American.

WASHINGTON

Regulations Adopted by Local Board of Health in Regard to Paralysis Situation.

After receiving the letter printed below, the local board of health have adopted the following rules and regulations for the town of Washington:

"Burlington, Vt., July 20, 1917.

"Dr. W. O. Hutchinson, Washington, Vt.
"Dear Doctor: I think it a very good plan for your local board of health to make special regulations in regard to infantile paralysis. Am sending you a copy to act as a guide. Yours,
"Charles F. Dalton."

The regulations:
Be it resolved that in accordance with No. 194 of the laws of 1917, the local board of health of Washington, Vt., hereby makes the following rules and regulations against the cause, development and spread of infantile paralysis.

1. All churches, schools, places of public entertainment, including public libraries and motion pictures, are hereby ordered closed.

2. Children under 16 years of age shall not be served at any ice cream counter, soda water fountain, restaurant, or any place where food or drink is sold to be consumed on the premises, exception being made to hotels.

3. All children entering this town from districts where infantile paralysis is present shall be put under full quarantine for a period of two weeks, more or less, as designated by the local health officer.

4. These regulations shall continue in force until vacated by a written order signed by the health officer or the secretary of the state board of health. This notice will appear in the Barre Daily Times previous to the end of the quarantine.

(Signed) Dr. W. O. Hutchinson, Local health officer.
Selectmen, Leo W. Seaver, H. S. Smith, W. G. Rogers.
Approved by the state board of health.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the middle ear. When this tube is inflamed, it has a rumbling sound or it inflames the hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Catarrh of the middle ear is caused by blood on the mucous surface of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Catarrh Medicine. Catarrh Medicine is sold by all druggists. F. J. CHERRY & CO., Toledo, O.

ESTATE OF EVA J. JACKSON

State of Vermont, District of Randolph, ss. The Honorable Probate Court for the District of Randolph:

To the heirs and all persons interested in the estate of Eva J. Jackson, late of Orange, in said district, deceased, GREETING:

WHEREAS, application hath been made to the said court in writing by Marie J. Chamberlain, administratrix of said estate, praying for the sale of the real estate of said deceased, and that it would be beneficial to the heirs and all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, to sell said real estate and convert the same into money.

And bringing into court the consent and approbation in writing of all the heirs to said estate residing in this state, and setting forth the situation of the real estate.

WIKREUPON, the said court appointed and assigned the 27th day of July, 1917, at the probate office in Chelsea, in said district, to hear and decide upon said application and petition, and ordered public notice thereof to be given to all persons interested therein, by publishing said order, together with the time and place of hearing, three weeks successively in the Barre Daily Times, a newspaper which circulates in the neighborhood of those persons interested in said estate, all of which publications shall be previous to the day assigned for said hearing.

THEREFORE, you are hereby notified to appear before said court, at the time and place assigned, to hear and decide upon said application and petition, and to set forth your objections to the granting of this license, if you see cause.

Given under my hand at Chelsea, in said district, this 27th day of July, 1917.
